RESULT OF DENVER'S CRASH

Trade Paralyzed in Colorado, and 30-000 Men Already Out of Work.Quiet Day in the Silver State Capital Following the Storm, but Strings of Out of Town Banks are Tumbling All Around.DENVER, Col., July 20.—The closing down of many silver mines, smelters, and the reduction of the working forces of coal mines, railways and manufacturing in this State, because of the reduction in the price of silver, has caused a deplorable condition of affairs among the laboring classes. Iis estimated that to-day there are 10,000 men in Denver unable to secure employment. There are 20,000 in outside towns in the same condition, one-half of whom are making their way to this city, where they will become a public charge if conditions do not speedily change.The typographical union, at a meeting last night, appropriated $1,000 for the purpose of sending unemployed men their homes in the East. The railways have been asked to make a fifteen-dollar rate for the men to any point between here and Chicago.A conservative estimate of the men discharged by railways, mines, business houses and factories since the silver panic started places the number at from 13,000 to 15,000. It is also estimated that Colorado, Utah, Montana and New Mexico merchants have countermanded orders on New York wholesale houses, which failed Monday for this amounting to over $12,000,000.There will apparently be no more failures in Denver. The panic was itself out. Yesterday the city was quiet and business was done on a normal basis. The German, State and National banks, this morning when the First, Nevada, Denver, City and American national opened their doors there were no lines at the windows in all of them at the paying tellers' windows. In the First and Colorado National along strings of depositors reaching nearly to the street were lined up in front of the receiving tellers' windows, and the money was going back into the bank vaults almost as rapidly as it was withdrawn during the past three days. The German, State and National banks could pay $3 for $1 if they could realize on securities. It is stated to-day that the McManama bank, which failed Monday for $200,000, has settled with their principal creditors, and will resume business Monday.The Roberts Hardware Company was attached this afternoon on a claim of the Colorado National Bank by Frank H. Bancroft for $15,000.A number of the firms closed yesterday and morning have now resumed business tomorrow. Chief among these is the Flanders Dry Goods Company, the court having ordered the sheriff to turn the conduct of the business pending satisfaction of The Hallack-Sayre Lumber Company and the Palace drug store will also resume.
The Tucker Manufacturing Company has also made arrangements to resume. A number of others will open in a few days.Other Failures.
NEW YORK, July 20.—David McClure has been appointed receiver for the Truth Company, on the application of Charles Eddy, Louis Ettlinger and Gustave H. Buck, directors for a dissolution of the company.
It was incorporated Dec. 10, 1892, with a capital stock of $200,000, succeeding to the business previously carried on by the News Letter Company, and issued bonds to the amount of $100,000.SHARON, Pa., July 20.—Sheriff Burnett, of Mercer, at the instance of attorney Ingo-rath, of Cleveland, served writs of attachment on the Donaghy Furnace Company, of Sharonville, foreclosing judgments for $250,000 to-day. The failure is perhaps directly attributable to the recent assignment of Forsythe, Hyde & Co., of Chicago, by which firm the furnace has been operated.CANNON CITY, Col., July 20.—When the hour for opening banks arrived this morning takers-by were confronted with a notice on the doors of the First National Bank announcing that, owing to failures of Denver banks, it would have to suspend for a short time.CHEYENNE, Wyo., July 20.—The failure of the Kent Bank, this morning, precipitated a run on the other banks, and this afternoon the First National Bank closed its doors. Liabilities, $502,000; assets, $75,000.
Both banks will probably reopen.NASHUA, N. H., July 20.—The Security Trust closed its doors this morning. The bank had not met with losses but stopped business on account of the withdrawal of deposits. It has deposits and surplus amounting to $250,000.GRAND JUNCTION, Col., July 20.—The First National Bank failed to open this morning. A notice posted on the doors stated the liabilities to be $50,000, assets $108,000, leaving a balance of $58,000 in favor of the bank.FRANKFORT, Ky., July 20.—Col. E. H.
Taylor, jr., the distiller, made an assignment to-day to the Lexington Trust Company.
The liabilities are not given out but it is supposed that they are not nearly so large as the assets.COLORADO SPRINGS, Col., July 20.—The banking houses of J. H. Wheeler & Co., at Colorado City and Manitou, failed to opentheir doors this morning. The assets of the Manitou bank are $114,000; liabilities, $84,000.HARRISONVILLE, Mo., July 20.—The First National Bank of Harrisonville suspended payment this morning and is in the hands of the Controller of the Currency. Capital stock, $50,000; assets, $80,000; liabilities, $30,000.WARRENSBURG, Mo., July 20.—The Johnson County Savings Bank suspended at noon to-day and will go into the hands of a receiver. About $10,000 was drawn out of the bank this morning.CHEYENNE, Wyo., July 20.—The private banking house of T. A. Kent failed to open its doors this morning.

THE FIGHTS A GO.

Mitchell Signs the Articles to Meet Champion James J. Corbett at the Roby Club.CHICAGO, July 20.—All doubts that the big Corbett-Mitchell fight will be fought under the auspices of the Columbian Athletic Club have been removed by the receipt of the following cablegram from London, to-day, by President O'Malley, of the Columbian Club:Mitchell signed articles, which shall forward at once, and will not detain to other club clubs. Forfeit in my hands.Immediately on receipt of the above O'Malley wired the following to Judge Newton, the match-maker of the Coney Island Club:On behalf of Columbian Club I tender you the courtesy of our club for Corbett-Mitchell contest. Humbly yours, DOMINICK G. O'MALLEY, President.Never in the history of the prize ring has there been so much interest taken as there has been in this international contest. Never has there been a purse offered and possibly never will there again be one as large as the one hung up by this club for Charles Mitchell, the champion pugilist of England, and James J. Corbett, the undisputed champion of America. The dissemination of the contest on account of the un-denied feeling wishing for Mitchell to win in order to be revenged for the defeat of their pugilistic idol, John L. Sullivan.This is the line that experts will draw on those two men, and says Corbett is taller, more active and younger than his adversary, while others will contend that Mitchell weighs just as much, is as clever, if not more so, than Corbett, besides is his master in ring tactics.

FIGHT WITH A BURGULAR.

Jacob Kaberick and Wife Beaten and Slashed to Pieces in the Night Time.HILLSBORO, Ill., July 20.—One of the bloodiest battles in the history of burglary in this vicinity took place last night four miles south of here. Mr. Jacob Kaberick and wife got up from bed to investigate a noise in the house and found a man crouching in a hiding place and grappled with him. The burglar, finding himself getting the worst of the fight, used both a blunt instrument and a knife upon his victims, cutting Mr. Kaberick in several places on the breast and knocking him senseless with a blow on the side of the head that crushed a portion of the skull. Mrs. Kaberick struggled with the burglar, and was slashed with the knife in a dozen different places, the most serious being a cut across and into the abdomen that may cause death. This ended the fighting and left both Kaberick and his wife in a helpless condition. The burglar had the nerve to continue the search for money, but failed to find any, though $1,000 was hidden in a leather bed in the house. Toward morning Kaberick regained consciousness and crawled to a neighboring farmhouse and told of the fight. The farmers came to town and gave the alarm, and police secured the country in search of one Fritz Mast, whom both the Kaber-icks say they recognized in the burglar.
Mast was captured by Sheriff Mitchell near the scene of his crime at a late hour to-day and is now in jail. Blood was found on his clothing and his hands were scratched.
Both his victims identified him before he was brought to town.

TEXAS POLITICIAN IN HOC.

Has Autograph Letters from President Cleveland and Others.CLEVELAND, O., July 20.—There rests to-night in a cell of the Central police station a dignified, well-dressed man who says he is B. B. Richards, of Fort Worth, Tex., the chairman of the Democratic State central committee of Texas during the last campaign. In his pockets are autograph letters from Grover Cleveland and ex-Governor Oglethorpe of Illinois, acknowledging the receipt of information on the political situation. Richards is accused of stealing a satchel from a trunk store on the public square, and it was in his possession when he was arrested on the street. He protests his innocence, declaring that he purchased a few articles in the store and picked up the satchel with them by mistake.

Briggs Doesn't Want His Gold.

SAN DIEGO, Cal., July 20.—Rev. Charles A. Briggs, who was deposed by the Presbyterian General Assembly, has declined an offer of a testimonial of $50,000 which Chaplain Parker, of this city, wished to present. Briggs, in declining, said he had lost nothing so far by the trial, except delay in literary work and waste of time and strength.

WALL STREET NERVOUS.

When that Row of Bricks Begins to Tatter Look Out for an Earthquake.NEW YORK, July 20.—The nervous feeling in Wall street which was so noticeable to-day was said to be due largely to the uncertainty regarding the identity of some corporation on behalf of which an application was made in the United States Circuit Court for the appointment of a receiver, without disclosing the name of the applicant. By direction of Judge Brown, the papers, in accordance with the request of counsel on both sides, were kept private so that the name of the embarrassed company should not be divulged. This action of Judge Brown was vigorously condemned in financial circles this morning. It resulted in the names of several prominent companies being suggested as the one concerned and in at least one case a serious decline in the price of the stock of one of those companies resulted. Prompt denials were, of course, made by the officers of the companies against whom suspicion was thus directed, but, in the absence of precise information as to what company the application referred to, the rumors were not set at rest.
Well-informed bankers and others quickly learned that none of the companies mentioned was referred to in the application.
Several bank presidents said that the action of Judge Brown was ill advised, because it might be the means of doing a great injustice to innocent persons. "For instance," said one of them, "this bank might in good faith discount a note of this mysterious corporation, or accept some of its checks, only to learn, too late to protect ourselves, that the company was in the hands of a receiver."Sterling exchange was weak and lower this morning, the quoted rates being $8.24 @ $8.24, and there was some talk heard of further imports of gold. The subtreasury was debtor at the clearing house this morning to the amount of $400,000, and was settled in gold. The subtreasury up to midday had exchanged $200,000 in currency, mostly "fives," "tens" and "twenties," for large greenbacks and gold certificates, and it was expected that a little more would be exchanged later in the day. It was supposed that the currency thus obtained would be used for shipment to St. Louis and Kansas City, from which points demands for cash were reported today by two or three of the larger banks.
Regarding the shipments of cash to St.
Louis the president of one of the large banks which sent out the money said that he did not regard it as a mistake from that center at this time as all serious. "St. Louis," he said, "is doing what Chicago ought to do, namely, the assistance of her neighbors instead of hoarding her cash, and like all the other big cities, it finds it has to come to New York when its own resources run low. St. Louis and Kansas City will soon begin to reap the benefit of the forwarding of cotton, and some coin is already being forwarded, and, therefore, I do not think it would be to know how we can figure out that the destruction of $200,000,000 in silver certificates can work him any harm if we put in their place $200,000,000 in gold.
How can it hurt him? He is not a man who is not a man who is not a man any such change? How can any business suffer by the substitution of gold because silver certificates have depreciated with the value of the metal? The currise no higher than their source. The trouble with Mr. Chandler's argument is that it is not a man who is not a man and that mistake is carried through the whole sum."

DOESN'T BELIEVE IN BLAINE.

I notice that he brings Mr. Blaine to his assistance. Mr. Blaine declares that gold and silver coin constitute the money of the Constitution. This is a mistake of Mr.
Blaine. They are not more the money of the Constitution than iron or copper. The Constitution gives power to Congress to coin money. It does not prescribe that it shall coin gold and silver. In respect to the declaration that gold and silver are the legal tender of anything except gold and silver. It is by no means follows that Congress is to be kept within the same limitations. Congress has the power to make a national paper currency, and it is within its power to make a legal tender of anything, as it has made it of paper with no intrinsic value. Congress does have the power to make a legal tender of anything it pleases, and it is within its power to make a legal tender of anything it pleases.NEW YORK, July 20.—The Tribune will to-morrow print the following: Stephen B. Elkins was interviewed yesterday in regard to the financial situation, during a brief visit to this city."If the extra session of Congress now called," said he, "is to afford the relief expected, it should have been called earlier, so that the disaster, loss and shrinkage of values which have fallen on the country might have been avoided. It is a fact that values have shrunk in four months to the extent of $1,000,000,000, and almost beyond comprehension. The reason set forth for calling the extra session of Congress is that the silver bill is a cause of the present financial troubles and distrust and should be repealed.""Do you think the silver bill is the cause of the present financial situation?" "It was asked.""In my judgment it is not the sole or the main cause. The silver bill did not turn the balance of trade against us, nor did it have anything to do with the policy of contraction, reduction in manufacturing adopted by business men following the failure of the currency. The silver bill is a cause of the present financial troubles and dis-trust and should be repealed.""What could Mr. Cleveland have done and what can he do now?"
"Instead of adding to the distrust about silver, Mr. Cleveland, early in April, had boldly declared it was the established policy of the United States, by the terms of the silver bill, to maintain the two metals at a parity, and that he would do so under any and all circumstances, it would have helped to prevent the present financial troubles and distrust, and in some other way, should have assured the people that there would be no great or radical changes in the tariff, and the principle of protection would not be destroyed, this would largely help to restore confidence."

KANSAS BLEEDING AGAIN.

This Time It Is the Striking Miners Who Got in a Fight.WEST CITY, Kan., July 20.—The expected crisis has come in the Kansas miners' strike. Miners who were willing to work quietly and peaceably have been attacked by the strikers, and blood has been shed.
The feeling which has been growing more and more bitter for several days culminated to-day in a fierce battle at Clements pit, one mile south of this city. All the forenoon there were mutterings of the approaching storm, and the feeling was universal that serious trouble was at hand.
Just before noon a band of five hundred of the strikers, headed by one hundred women, which had been marching to the various strip pits, reached Clements pit and sent in a committee to persuade the miners working there to quit. This they refused to do, and when the committee reported the entire body moved on to the works to force the men out. The strikers were ready for them, and when they crossed the tresspass line they were fired upon and a general battle ensued, in which Winchesters, pistols and clubs were used.
Over one hundred shots were fired.
One man was wounded in the forehead, a high pitch of battle was raised, in the foot and one of the women got a bullet through her arm. It is believed that none of the wounds are dangerous. A number of the strikers were beaten up with clubs and clubbed guns.
The wounded were quickly removed by their friends and their names have not been learned.As a result of the battle the men in the strip were routed by the strikers, and were forced to flee for their lives, pursued by the howling mob, which would have lynched them had they been caught. The owner of the strip, Clements, his son, and a man named "Big Dick" Reed are said to be the ones who did the shooting, and they have given themselves up and were run out of the county for safe keeping. The excitement was intense after the shooting, and it was feared that matters would become worse, but a prominent striker, Geo.
R. Fulton, made the crowd a speech, in which he advised them to be satisfied with the result. The crowd was then dispersed, and it is rumored that a quantity of firearms have been received here to-night. The excitement continues and further bloodshed now seems inevitable.The strikers were led by one hundred women, and in the vanguard were also an equal number of men. The strikers were evidently placed in the front rank in the belief that the guards and men at work would not fire upon them.
The strikers were armed with sticks and clubs, and some with firearms.
In front of the strikers were a few big United States flags and on either side of it, two black flags. When the men at work and the guards fired upon the strikers, the children of the men entered boldly into the fight and fought with as much ferocious-ness as the men. The lawless element of the strike, who are wounded, as far as can be ascertained, is as follows: A boy named Betender, shot in the foot; Alex. Gage, a striker, shot in the forehead; Joseph Burdick, a striker, shot in the breast; an unknown man, shot through the arm; Dick Reed, a striker, slight fracture of the skull.
The names of the strikers who were shot Simon Clemmens eluded on the head.

Beltrove More Bloodshed is Coming.

PITTSBURG, Kan., July 20.—The miners in this vicinity are in a state of intense excitement to-night over the shooting of four of their men by the guards at Pittsburg to-day. Many across the opinion that is but a starter and will result in more bloodshed. That they are wrought up more now than at any time during the strike is certain, and there is no telling what the end will be. A meeting of miners and strip pit men is called for to-morrow in this city, when it is expected that a large number of miners will be present from the lower part of the district, and it is almost certain that something new will be decided on regarding the matter of work.A telegram was received at the miners' headquarters to-day stating that Assistant Attorney-general Clark will arrive at Pittsburg to-night to afford the miners all the legal protection to which they may be entitled. No attempt was made to disturb the strike pits in the neighborhood of Pittsburg to-day. Those operated by Beck, Heasley & Lanyon are running the same as usual. The employees around the Kansas and Texas shaft No. 22 at Leitchfield is about one-third completed and the men are working night and day upon it. About 500 men visited three strip pits at Fronte-rae yesterday and prevailed on the workmen to quit.
